All the news I see fit to print.

Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

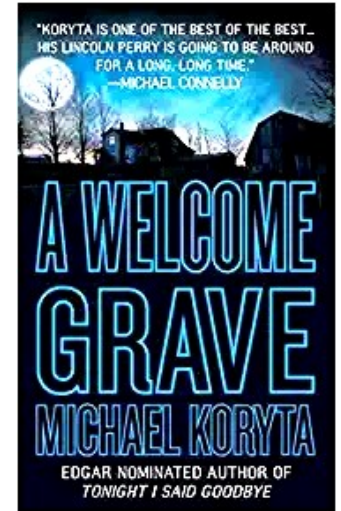

Minnesota continues to protect its citizens from the beer flu (Kung flu?) by extending the ban on indoor dining. They say science demands it. However, when science does not prove them right...well, they just ignore it. They used to publish data such as this:

COVID-19 Deaths and Underlying Conditions
Data current as of 10/21/2020
	Underlying Conditions			Total
	Yes	No	Unknown
All ages	2141 (94%)	48 (2%)	80 (4%)	2269
Under 60 years	143 (82%)	20 (11%)	12 (7%)	175
60 years and older	1998 (95%)	28 (1%)	68 (3%)	2094

Mid-October 2020 was the last report...maybe the gyrating Sign Language Lady warned them that the stats do not justify ANY of Gov Timmy's edicts. Less than one hundred of the 2,269 Covid deaths reported had NO underlying condition such as suicide, ejected from a car or run over by a bus. Remember, the government pays up to $38,000.00 for patients diagnosed with Covid...even if they show up with a gun shot wound collected during one of the peaceful protests. I wonder...if a politician gets tarred and feathered by a mob, would that be an underlying condition? Asking for a friend.

*2020 was so bad
I was missing people
I don't even like.*

Book Report

Third Lincoln/Joe novel further developing the characters. Intricate plot very well done as usual. Koryta will be around for a long time as his books will allow him to focus on writing instead of the PI and reporter jobs he held.

Spooky but good. Too much extraneous history filler to plot makes for quick read. H/T Dr. Marshall. Also for the 2012 DVD comedy (unintentional?) movie.

-more-

Let's face it (pun intended), politicians must have mixed feelings about wearing face masks. Virtue signaling aside, they are all camera hounds and must have some trepidation about hiding behind a mask when their whole purpose is to gain camera time. Then there's constant references in the press to the "deadly coronavirus"—deadly, with a 99.7% survival rate. So...if you get the vaccine it dramatically rises all the way to 99.8%? Wearing a mask will make you more immune? No...they say it's to protect others from the beer flu. Are they assuming I already have it and I should wear a mask to protect others? Why are they wearing one? They have it too? Does that mean everyone has it and we have reached herd immunity? If we have reached herd immunity, where are the environmentalists and their theory about cow flatulence being bad for global warming? If they are wearing masks...how can they smell it? They also say loss of taste is another indication you have the beer flu. I won't go there. BTW: the covid-19 death rate without a vaccine is lower than the regular flu rate with a vaccine. Just saying.

Do you honestly believe that in 70 years of research and development we have a 40% effective flu shot

But in 10 months a 95% effective Rona shot ?

Did you know
That Polar Bears scream when they poop?
Yes, they do.
You're welcome.

Apparently elections have gone digital where you don't need voters. Three of the Dominion election machines in GOP Georgia counties broke down at the same time (3am) Jan 5th. This is a repeat of the November election. Using Pennsylvania as an example:

Biden...49.69% with 3,348,780 "votes"
Trump...49.15% with 3,311,966 "votes"

ALLEGHENY COUNTY

TOTAL BALLOTS CAST: 726,720

TOTAL VOTERS WHO CAST BALLOTS: 605,754

120,966 MORE BALLOTS CAST THAN INDIVIDUALS WHO VOTED

One county in one of seven states with proven fraud.

"Nothing to see here. Move along."

I don't think so...
