

Dalia al-Aqidi, a Minnesota Republican and Muslim Immigrant is Running Against Ilhan Omar. Omar's got vote-buyers and ballot box stuffers, while Dalia has the MN GOP famous for, well, nothing.

Democrats have had a lock on the 5th Congress District since 1963. It votes 75-25 for Democrat presidents. Butchered and burned Jewish children are not going to move the progressives from Omar:

Population (2022) 706,667

Median household income $77,372

Ethnicity 63.6% White · 16.6% Black · 8.8% Hispanic · 6.0% Asian · 3.8% Two or more races · 1.2% other.

Speaking from Israel, Dalia al-Aqidi traveled there to "show my support and solidarity with the Jewish people," declaring that the people of Minneapolis – where Omar was raised – support Israel.

This district also gave us Keith Ellison for multiple terms in congress and he is now MN attorney general.

What would happen if Trump had a MN rally?

11.11.2023 #408

All the news I see fit to print.

Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

Farcebook (sic) founder Mark Zuckerberg spent more than $400 million in 2020 to elect Joe Biden, violating campaign finance rules that limit donations. Farcebook (sic) contributed a total of $641,685 to the members of Congress that Zuckerberg faced in congressional hearings. The top recipients of that money included Sen. Cory Booker (D-NJ), Sen. Kamala Harris (D-CA), and Rep. Anna Eshoo (D-CA).

And some news about CA: California Senate Hopeful Adam Schiff Maintains Primary Residence in...Maryland...a 3,420 square foot home he owns in Maryland, according to a review of mortgage records. At the same time, Schiff has for years taken a homeowner's tax exemption on a much smaller 650 square foot condo he owns in Burbank, California, also claiming that home as his primary residence for a reduction in his tax bill of $7,000. In a related twist, Gavin Newsom's senate replacement of Diane Feinstein, radical Marxist lesbian Laphonza Butler, actually lives in Maryland rather than California. She was even registered to vote there last year.

Democrats are suing the state of Wisconsin to block witness requirements for absentee voter ballots. The effort is being led by former Hillary Clinton campaign lawyer Marc Elias. Elias and national Democrats are pushing to strip rules and procedures from U.S. elections that protect voter integrity. Under current Wisconsin law, a witness is required to sign and address an absentee ballot envelope. This requirement reduces the chance of voter fraud but doesn't faze the D's.

The bill for illegal immigration into the US is a one trillion – interest on US Government debt of 33.7 trillion at 5% per annum = 1.7 trillion – the Federal Income Tax receipts for 2022 = 2.6 trillion.

I wonder if we could get a loan from Ukraine?

Book Report

My recommendation for the free eBook from Amazon Prime for November. Think a recently retired James Bond character. Great plot also. Looking forward to more of Brad Trasker after this, the debut novel.

Yep...still in a battle with Microsoft and working around their "help" as they plug in new applications and hide the old ones. Have been trying to find some help besides just what I can find online. I figure the IT profession has developed their own system of job security by avoiding common sense and championing obfuscation in their "help". Also: robocalling is evolving, with generative AI now enabling scammers to mimic the voices of people we know, making fraudulent calls seem more trustworthy and heightening the risk of highly successful scams.

Just because it's a bad idea doesn't mean
it won't be good.

Notice how the lines on the LGBTQ flag are straight?

Do something nice
for someone today.
Leave them alone.

Sarcasm.
It's how I hug people.

A penny for some thoughts seems a bit pricey.

I correct autocorrect
more than it corrects me.

There are no calories listed on wine bottles. Just saying.

If your phone doesn't ring...
...it's me.

I set my alarm
so I can ignore it.
I love retirement.

I'm actually a very nice person
until someone annoys me.

If you believe in love at first sight,
make sure you look twice.

I wish people would stop petting my peeves.

Why do my leadership skills
cause some people
to call me bossy?

Robots are asking humans to verify that
they are not robots.

If I wanted to
"self checkout"
I would have gone to the Amazon store.

In the early 1920s, Casper Holstein, a black man from the Danish West Indies who worked as a porter for a Fifth Avenue store, liked to study the "Clearing House" totals published in a year's worth of newspapers he'd saved. The Clearing House was an operation that managed the exchanges of money among New York City banks on a daily basis. It occurred to Holstein that the numbers printed were different every day. He started a numbers lottery that lasted for 60 years. The numbers reigned supreme as New York City's daily lottery game — until 1980, when the state decided it wanted in. Powerball tickets cost $2 and are sold in 45 U.S. states as well as Washington, D.C., Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Lottery officials said that while the odds of winning the big jackpot (sometimes a billion dollars) may be astronomical, the chances of winning a smaller prize were much better at 1 in 24.9. Most of the states also have their own lotteries. The odds of winning a lottery vary from Powerball: 1 in 292.2 million, Mega Millions: 1 in 302.5 million and Lotto: 1 in 45,057,474. Jackpot winners can either take the money as an immediate cash lump sum or in 30 annual payments over 29 years. Both advertised prize options do not include federal and jurisdictional taxes. Obviously, lottery players are bad at math. Benjamin Franklin was active in promoting lotteries for everything from fire fighting associations to schools and even churches. He also came up with the idea of matching grants for the same purpose. I find it fascinating that the government went after the Mafia for its version called the "numbers" racket. I guess it's legal and not a racket when the government is involved.

Tidbits

(a small and particularly interesting item of gossip or information)

Soros-backed DA Jason Williams of New Orleans was carjacked at gunpoint. He campaigned against cash bail and called for alternatives to prison. During his first few months in office, he dismissed 66% of all violent felony cases.

The Texas Rangers won the baseball world series. They are the only team that didn't have a "Pride Night".

Divine intervention?

Google shelled out a whopping $26.3 billion in 2021 to ensure that it was the search engine on various devices, including mobile phones and web browsers.

The latest toy of Google co-founder Sergey Brin is a helium-filled airship and recently gained flight clearance from the FAA.

"Oh the humanity!"

The city of Chicago and Democrat Mayor Brandon Johnson is calling on city authorities to give black residents fewer parking tickets in an effort to push "racial equity."

California and New York lost a combined 1.4 million residents in 2022, many relocating to Texas and Florida while Democrats controlled the Census and UNDER-COUNTED Texas and Florida and OVERCOUNTED Blue states so they have more Congress critters.

Until next week...

email: fns@franksiegler.com
blog: www.franksiegler.com

*This newsletter is published Saturday mornings by subscription.
email me requesting to be added.*

Or visit my blog.

Please feel free to pass it on.