

Recipe for Disaster

Democrats had great success in 2020 with their election tactics but this time around, there are too many people who are aware and have the means other than the Lame Stream Media to sound the alarm. You may have heard of their ActBlue fund raiser where they use random names to document illegal donations...with hundreds of donations attributed to one name. This time around, there is a website that can check whether they have used your name:

checkmydonation.org

Then there is the blatant election interference:

Pennsylvania Voters Witness 'Non-English Speaking Citizens' Escorted Past Long Lines to Vote
GOP Voters Were 'Turned Away' Amid Record Early Turnout in PA

North Carolina Will Allow Voters Who Never Lived in the US to Vote in the State

Biden Administration is blocking states from accessing databases that would help verify whether voters are U.S. citizens

Passwords for voting system components in 63 of 64 counties were publicly shared in a file on Ohio Secretary of State Jena Griswold's website.

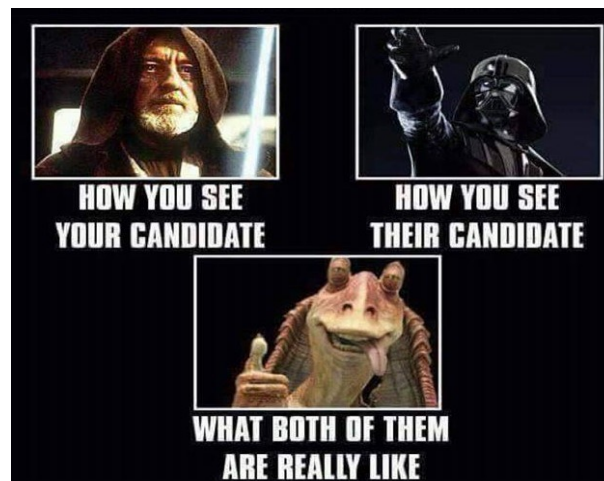

These examples are just the blatant ones.

All the news I see fit to print.
Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

Time to get down and dirty. I have decided some Democrat politicians (and LSM "journalists") are batshit crazy. Like a bat, they scream into a void, fly in that direction and try not to crash into a wall...but hit it anyway. This sudden embrace of Adolf Hitler as descriptive of anyone who disagrees with them is really weird given their win at all cost mentality that duplicates the tactics Hitler used to gain the power Democrats pursue in lockstep echo of whoever comes up with the pejorative label du jour. To add volume, they are including Stalin, Mussolini and others who have actually used the same tactics. How soon before they tell us that Trump is as dumb as Biden? Or that J.D. Vance is as weird as Tampon Timmy? When anyone notices that Elizabeth Warren is NOT an Indian but Kamala is...they pull out the racist and misogynist labels. Seems to me that they are adopting the tactic of Hitler's buddy, Goebbels, who advised: "accuse your enemies of what you are doing". We're even witness to antisemitism as Israel is being blamed for the failure of Democrat policies that has rebuilt the Islamic terror Trump had defeated. Now that's a theme reminiscent of their Hitler analogy.

Book Report

I do wish this guy had written some books. However, he is breathing life back into that vast wasteland of television. His name is Taylor Sheridan and he has done it all...actor, director, producer, screenwriter and more.

His most famous hit is Yellowstone but started his success run with Sicario. Current hits include Lioness, Tulsa King, Mayor of Kingstown, 1923 and 1883. In the works is Landman (Nov 17th) which is really an out of the box plot. He has become Paramount's rain maker. Lots of big names but some new faces performing just as well. The cost of $12/month includes Showtime original series, movies and live TV. It would appear that the Lame Stream Media is losing this audience as well as their biased news divisions. That's being demolished by guys like Joe Rogan who captured 34 MILLION viewers in just two days with his interview of Trump. The COMBINED views for NBC, CBS and ABC comes in at a total of 17 million. Meanwhile, Amazon Prime has hired disgraced "journalist" Brian Williams to "host" election night coverage.

Good Luck with that!

Nov 3rd is the day we're to crank clocks back an hour. They call it daylight savings and like a typical government mandate, it still gets dark...so who got all that savings?

Individual states can opt out of the DST idiocy. The meme above is ironic since Hawaii and Arizona do not recognize DST...except for the Navajo Nation in AZ. Did you know the DST idea was first proposed (as a joke) by Benjamin Franklin to save on the cost of candles? The Uniform Time Act of 1966 (P.L. 89-387), signed by President Lyndon Johnson, made it mandatory. Instead of arguing for a mandatory balanced budget, congress critters have amended the DST laws a dozen times and any critter seeking face time in front of the cameras latch onto the subject...with the "clock back" coming just before election day in November. Angie Craig (my congress critter but not by choice) has visited the subject twice during elections. Of course, these critters think it's such a great idea that they have made it mandatory as they do with all of their great ideas.
