I got curious about that My Pillow guy. Discovered he actually has a patent on his pillow so I ordered one. I was very pleased with it and can see why people even take it with them when they travel. For the curious, the patent number is US7,461,424 B2 if you want to look it up at the patent office. Interesting process to make one.

Then a visit to Mike's website where I found a "heavyweight" bathrobe. He wasn't kidding...it weighs over three pounds and is great for our MN winters (although we seem to be skipping it this year).

About that meme at top...

White Tennessee Democrat Congressman Steve Cohen was incensed that Super Bowl fans did not stand in respect for what he called the "Negro National Anthem" during the Super Bowl.

Should this be labeled "whitesplaining"?

All the news I see fit to print. Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

Deadspin is a sports podcast I've never heard of until they picked on this kid in the crowd at a game and Deadspin "journalist" Carron Phillips ranted about this horrible racist "blackface" kid.

Turns out the Chiefs fan kid is nine year old Holden Armenta who is of Native American descent and belongs to the Chumash tribe, where his grandfather serves on the Tribal board. Holden's parents have filed a lawsuit against Deadspin and Phillips for "maliciously and wantonly" attacking the boy.

A grass roots fundraising campaign raised $11,000 to get Holden Armenta to the Super Bowl while a law firm begins the process of collecting $9 million in defamation damages from both the Deadspin podsite and their "journalist".

Remember when the Washington Post paid $250 million lawsuit to High School student Nick Sandmann? That was a 2019 "report" that claimed Nick attacked a Native American.

Nick and Holden may have enough money between them for tickets to the next Super Bowl while Deadspin and their "journalists" learn how to code.

Book Report

I spend most of my evenings reading. Normal is about three books a week. I follow over a dozen authors and buy their books either new or used with thriftbooks.com where the price is about $4 with free shipping.

This website:

bookseriesinorder.com will provide a complete listing of any author's work by year published. Then I use that list to find the books at thriftbooks.com and order them, sometimes several at a time. The books I buy are those I would read more than once just as some watch a movie more than once because they are so good. Also have a friend who sends me boxes of books he's read. Discovered several new authors from those. I've built four (and counting) large bookcases but have refrained from building more. My cats (picture above) have learned to push books out of the one above my bed, typically VERY early in the morning. I also collect debut novels and have a few worth quite a bit. There is also Amazon Prime's free ebook (sometimes two) each month with a chance to sample established and debut novels. I do prefer hardcover and DVD's for movies (popcorn is cheaper).

Amid its recruiting crisis, the U.S. Navy has dropped its requirement that recruits have a high school diploma or GED. And the $60 billion Cocaine Mitch wants for Ukraine is larger than the $53 billion 2024 budget for the Marines. (That's my Navy flag which will not be replaced for the same reason my American flag is flown upside down.)

Pharma media advertising spending in the U.S. was more than one billion dollars monthly in 2022 for a total of about $18 billion. They tell me to "check with my doctor". Maybe I should send them the bill for the doctor visit? The Pfizer Super Bowl ad was the personification of the word chutzpah! $7 million worth!

COVID relief tax dollars were being misused to pay up to approximately 223,000 illegal immigrants living in Washington state. A new report from the Economic Policy Innovation Center (EPIC) said $340 million was paid through 2023 plus federal and state tax dollars the state said it paid to illegal immigrants. The taxpayer funds far exceeded $400 million as part of the Immigrant Relief Fund.

In Taiwan, the number of people dying after their COVID-19 vaccination is exceeding the number of deaths from the virus itself.

Tidbits

(a small and particularly interesting item of gossip or information)

Government that forced you to get vaccine or lose your job welcomes unvaxed and unemployed illegals.

Biden fired over 7,000 military members because they refused the COVID vaccine and then brought in 10 million unvetted, unchecked and (ironically) unvaccinated illegal aliens into our 50 states.

Biden found 350,000 new jobs in January from the same place he found his 81 million votes.

About those jobs...some people have three of them. The rest are new government positions.

The national debt is at $34 trillion. Pallets of $100 bills stacked six feet high would fill dozens of Super Bowl stadiums with enough left over for the $17 Bud Light they were selling.

We may need even more stadiums as another $2 trillion is projected to be added to the debt this year.

BTW: if we're in debt, where are we getting all that money we're giving to other countries?

We now have the first pResident declared incompetent to stand trial. He's the DEM in dementia?

Military age illegal aliens Mayorkas and Biden allowed into our country outnumber our military 6 to 1.

An airline of fifty Airbus 320's and average of three roundtrips a day could return 27,000 illegals to their countries per day. Operating seven days a week, it would take them over two years to return al of them.

Until next week...
