When any of the kids come over for pizza, they usually send pictures to their absent siblings with a pithy memo:

nah nah nah nah nah nah

I'm using special ingredients such as Italian sausage and pepperoni as well as making the Marinara sauce from fresh tomatoes. Only one of the kids likes mushrooms...what's up with that? Now that I'm getting old and feeble, the kids have begun to tell me tales that would have turned my hair grey a lot sooner. I did get them to promise to go that extra mile to give me the burial I deserve...

...not quite what I had in mind.

This idiot voted for 350 miles of wall in 2013...and then shut down the gov't over 235 miles of wall in 2018.

Given the new Democrats they've added, it should become an obvious circus that will either implode in the House or create riots at the border. Smart move to bring troops we will need home.

THE FRANK REPORT

2.2.2019 #159

*All the news I see fit to print.
Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.*

By my calculations, this is issue #159 as a weekly newsletter. Thanks for reading it or I would just be some lunatic alone with my keyboard growling at the world.

Ever wonder why Democrats have sanctuary cities...and don't want citizenship question on the coming census? For every 770,000 illegal aliens, they get a seat in the US House of Representatives apportioned to their area following the census. By 2020, when they do the next census, if they had 10 MILLION non-citizens living in California. that would mean California would get an additional 10 SEATS in the US HOUSE.

According to IRS migration data, which uses individual income tax returns to record year-to-year address changes, over 250,000 California residents moved out of the state between 2013 and 2014.

The Migration Policy Institute (MPI), says there are 3,019,000 adult illegal immigrants living in the state of California. There are 1.1 million children of illegal immigrants (975,000 are anchor babies); a total of 4.12 million illegal immigrants, living in California.

449,000 people on the voter registration list...admitted they were not citizens to avoid jury duty...makes you wonder how many didn't...and voted!

Had gender change this week.
Not on purpose.
It's that cold.

Book Report

Hero Peter Ash again...and this one really goes ballistic. This is #4 in the series and recommended by Lee Child of Jack Reacher fame. Me too!

Found this on Amazon. Really well done TV by The History Channel. America: The Story of Us is a sequel. Also worth watching.

Yes...it is binge watching so there I was at noon the next day still in my bathrobe. Not like I missed anything.

Happy Groundhog Day!

The good news...this extreme cold will kill the Japanese beetle grubs before they hatch and try to kill my trees. Brenda set traps one year and caught almost ten pounds of them. It's a wonder the new trees survived.

Read where the Elm tree borer is about to experience the same fate.

Gadget in my office is fairly accurate. What I was doing still up at 2:40am probably due to a new book...and the frustration of The Boys. Paul (below) usually has the best facial expressions questioning my schedule.

Peter will head for the bedroom when I call it quits for the day. Paul will sneak in after we are almost asleep and God help me if I move my foot!

Early morning revenge!
