

Yes, that picture from the last newsletter was altered. However, consider this: before this guy “attacked” her with a mystery liquid, she actually posed for a picture with him. After being “sprayed”, she didn’t go to the hospital, didn’t try to remove the mystery liquid and then hugged people at the end of the meeting with the liquid still on her. Hmm.

Maybe she was trying to draw attention from the House Oversight Committee probing “Squad” member Rep. Ilhan Omar’s skyrocketing family wealth after a $9 billion Somali social services fraud scandal in her MPLS district...from zero to $44 million in four years.

It turns out Ilhan Omar isn’t the only member of the far-left “Squad” getting rich while denouncing capitalism. MA(D) Congresswoman Ayanna Pressley has seen her family’s net worth explode from a negative net worth when she was elected to holding assets worth up to $8 MILLION.

Let’s keep looking!

"What in hell have those adults done now?"

2.7.2026 #526

All the news I see fit to print.

Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

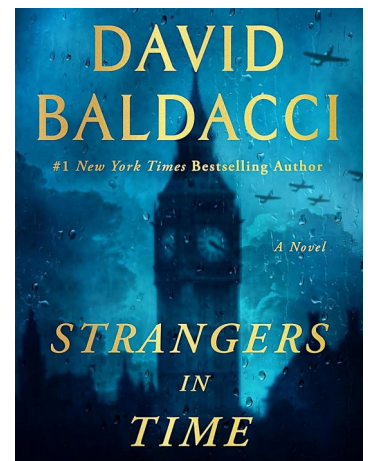

With a detransitioner winning a two million dollar medical malpractice settlement (which should have been 100 times higher), the total collapse of the trans movement is officially upon us. In the next few years, every Frankenstein gender butcher and perverted "medical professional" who profited from the sexual mutilation of children should be sued into oblivion. As the years pass, those who supported this madness will quietly retreat and pretend that none of this ever happened, or that they had no hand in it. The trans gender movement will go down in history as the most deranged form of mass hysteria that human civilization has ever seen.

Meanwhile guess what Trump has done: every child born between Jan. 1, 2025, and Dec. 31, 2028, is eligible for a $1,000 deposit into a Trump Account from the federal government. Every child under 18 years old in America right now is also eligible for the creation of a Trump Account where their parents or their parents’ employers can deposit up to $5,000 a year on a tax-advantaged basis—employers can contribute up to $2,500 of that—and then the funds in the accounts cannot be accessed until the child is at least 18 years old. At that point, or in the future long beyond then, the child can use the funds in their Trump Accounts for qualified expenses like buying homes, education expenses, or retirement income if they choose to wait that long. By some estimates, if the max contribution is made every year into these accounts, they could grow to be worth more than $300,000 by a child’s 18th birthday and to be worth more than $1 million by their 28th birthday.

David Baldacci got $2 million advance for his debut novel Absolute Power, in 1994 with another $1 million more from Clint Eastwood for the film rights...before the novel was even published. He has since written 60 published books with over 200 million sold in 45 languages. No wonder he’s smiling. Just finished this one:

This 2025 release is London during the WW2 Blitz with two teenagers main characters. Not a kid’s book as I think David is writing for his own enjoyment much like John D. MacDonald did with the Travis McGee series. Unlike Baldacci, MacDonald had to finish his first two books before the publisher would take him on.

Lee Child’s Reacher was invented for money and he got enough to quit and sadly turned the franchise over to his brother where it died.

No one political party can fool all of the people all of the time. That's why we have two?

Politics has become the art of getting votes from the poor and campaign funds from the rich by promising to protect each from the other.

Last week I noted that 12 Republican Minnesota governor candidates debated at a Scott County event. Only 300 people showed up out of a country population of 160,000.

The DFL reported over 30,000 at their caucus. MNGoP reported about 14,000.

Republican voters are reluctant to participate in Minnesota because of voter fraud. I'm including a report on the various methods of fraud as an attachment to this issue.

Minnesota voters have learned that under the Minnesota rules, one registered voter can "vouch" for up to eight others, meaning these unverified individuals can walk into a polling place on Election Day, register, and vote without ever proving identity, citizenship, or residency.

Minnesota isn't alone. Two Democrats won special Texas election runoffs, winning a Republican stronghold in Tarrant County, the other in Houston. Only 95,000 voted out of nearly 618,000 registered voters.

Wonder what would happen if GOP poll watchers wore this hat during the next election?

Time for a quote from Benjamin Franklin: The world is run by those who show up. And that is what the GOP is facing.

"Trump needs to compromise just a little bit..."

"Once you start to compromise with the Left, first you compromise with the near Left. Then they're fanatical, and you compromise with the middle Left. Then you find yourselves compromising with the far Left. Never forget that some of the tyrannical regimes have come into power by constitutional means".
