

Recipe Corner

Some recipes get complicated. This happened a few years ago: A Swedish man was arrested after trying to split atoms in his kitchen said he was only doing it as a hobby. He had the radioactive elements radium, americium and uranium in his apartment in southern Sweden when police showed up and arrested him on charges of unauthorized possession of nuclear material. He had tried for months to set up a nuclear reactor at home and kept a blog about his experiments, describing how he created a small meltdown on his stove. Only later did he realize it might not be legal and asked Sweden's Radiation Authority. They answered by sending the police.

I'll bet he'd win any chili cookoff contest.

The Frank Report

All the news I see fit to print.

Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

If you think...say...or do something...who decides it is "wrong".

Here's a list of "who" can accuse you: Your conscience. Your family. Your peer group. Your rabbi/minister/priest. Your co-workers. Social media and critics nicknamed Karen can also weigh in. Now add more people who agree with your accusers. They learned about it from "journalists". And if they see it on the internet, you must be "wrong". But what if you're not?

Your conscience is the only thing that can exonerate you. Tip: your conscience will hurt when all your other parts feel so good.

What if you ARE right?

You can then join that exclusive club with fellow members like Galileo who had proof he was right but religious leaders threatened him with death. Then there was Rosa Parks who was threatened with jail because she thought she was equal to anyone else riding that bus. Even God is blamed for mistakes stupid people make. Bet none of our millions of lawyers would take on God but they are right there when anyone disagrees with your conscience. Oh, wait. One of them did...a lawyer I actually admire by the name of Ernie Chambers. As a Nebraska Senator he sued God and made fools of the politicians who couldn't present a counter argument. Ernie didn't really have a problem with God...he did have a problem with how his fellow politicians ran the clown show and passed self serving laws.

Lawyers are taught to win. Their only job is to protect you from other lawyers. Anybody who says you are wrong can hire a lawyer and bring you before another group of lawyers (judges) and depending upon how much money you have can continue the argument right on up to that group of lawyer/judges who have been dubbed "Supreme". Wonder if they would have to recuse themselves if Ernie had pressed his case against God?

There are 67 genders. Men can have babies. Kids can choose their sex. Criminals should not be jailed. Epstein committed suicide. Hillary had 53 friends who committed suicide. Dr. Fauci is science. White people are racist but black people aren't. Antifa members are peaceful demonstrators but the J6 crowd are terrorists. Words are violence, riots aren't

And the government is here to help you.

Book Report

Number 23 in the series which proves the popularity of the Joe Pickett character. The Nate Romanowski character returns big time as he and Joe find themselves in a battle with corrupt FBI agents fostering domestic terrorism. And here I thought C.J. Box only wrote fiction.

Season Two of Reacher at Amazon Prime is based on the 11th book in the series. The filming has been completed and I would guess a spring or early summer release. I've watched Season One three times and spotted something new each time. TV script was true to the book's plot.

I'm not as crazy as I could be and I want everyone to be grateful for that.

If she says she missed you, make darn sure she's not reloading.

No matter the size of the hammer, you can't pound common sense into stupid people.

Some people aren't really stupid. They just have bad luck trying to think.

When you really want to slap someone, do it and say "mosquito!"

If I have offended you with my opinion, you should hear the ones I keep to myself.

I don't have tattoos because you don't put bumper stickers on a Ferrari.

I don't have a bucket list but my fucket list is a mile long.

My people skills are just fine. It's my tolerance of idiots that needs work.

When you bury your enemy's body, cover it with endangered plants so it's illegal to dig it up. You're welcome.

Fact of life: After Monday and Tuesday even the calendar says WTF....

Which reminds me that the idiot that put the first "R" in February probably decided how to spell Wednesday. I pronounce it with three syllables.

Then: former Mayor Bill de Blasio decides to waive any oversight of his panic purchases, preventing then Comptroller Scott Stringer from scrutinizing the COVID emergency contracts. Now: New York City officials just auctioned off nearly $225 million worth of surplus COVID medical equipment and safety gear for just $500,000. The unsold items were given away to various countries or nonprofit organizations. One contract went to Digital Gadgets for ventilators the company failed to deliver, they provided the city with N95 masks instead. Charlie Tebele, a major donor to de Blasio and Governor Kathy Hochul, both Democrats, owns Digital Gadgets.

Last year, Tebele's company charged the state $637 million, nearly twice the going rate for COVID test kits. Told you so: President Trump told DeBlasio that he did not need all that stuff. DeBlasio wouldn't listen. He was too busy killing seniors in nursing homes.

BTW: remember how two over the counter inexpensive treatments, hydroxychloroquine and ivermectin, for COVID, were dismissed as horse medicine and any physician who prescribed them was ridiculed and threatened? It's because the emergency use authorization for $200 BILLION of the Pfizer (and others) vaccines would not have been granted according to US law.

In Minnesota, in 19 public schools across the state, not a single student could do grade-level math during the 2021 -2022 school year, according to an analysis of state assessment data. (Maybe this is why the state's Powerball lottery is growing. Lotteries are for people bad at math.)

FYI: Biden has spent more time "working" in the White House than the Republicans have worked in Congress since they assumed majority. Lots of sound bites but no warrants, indictments nor even hearings except for low hanging (or should be hung) idiots. Where's Fauci? The Lame Stream Media had him walking on water for over two years and would have us believe anything he said.

Maybe he's on his way to Montenegro where there would be no extradition treaty with US.

Some history for you: from 1999-2014, Ukraine donated more money to the Clinton Foundation than any other foreign country. Biden, Pelosi, Kerry and Romney all have children working for Ukrainian gas companies.

Bet they wish they had turned those Capital cameras off. Tucker Carlson is having fun with the 44,000 hours of video showing the Trump "terrorists" being escorted by the Capital police inside while FBI agents incite the crowd outside by tossing grenades and flares and beating them with batons and using tasers on grandma.

In an historic show of bipartisanship, both Senate Majority leader Schumer and Senate Minority leader McConnell, call for the censorship of Fox News and firing of Tucker Carlson because the public won't understand what they are seeing on those videos.

(I am not making that up.)

The Capital Police Chief insists his officers didn't do 'nuffin wrong. Hired and controlled by Pelosi so what should we have expected?

Until next week...
