Gas prices in MN going waay down...84 cents a gallon in one town. With quarantine, I'm getting about three weeks to the gallon. Top down and 70 degrees last week...snow storm on Easter. My fault for switching to summer tires?

THE FRANK REPORT

4.18.2020 #222

All the news I see fit to print.
Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

We are paying 535 members of Congress Millions of dollars to do nothing.
535 x $174,000 (Avg. Salary) = $93,090,000 + Benefits
We are paying President Donald Trump nothing, to do everything.

Gov Tim Walz of MN: beer flu model projected 74,000 deaths in Minnesota alone without social distancing, and 50,000 with the draconian measures our governor has implemented. IHME model (the one Dr. Fauci is using) projects 442 deaths in Minnesota. Obviously, someone is badly off the mark. Given that Minnesota currently has only 70 deaths (median age 88) and population is 5,700,000 so I'll let you do the number crunching. We're paying the governor $139K and over $3 million for his office's expertise. For this we get numerous "commercials" about how he is protecting us. Maybe the shut down was to force us to watch them?

We're stuck with him until 2022!

Could be worse.
Here's Schumer protecting us/him? Although I don't think that's the way it should be worn.

Book Report

TV series on Amazon Prime is a mix of conspiracy, comedy and great acting by Al Pacino. Spoiler: white people bad, Jews incompetent, Black lesbians real heroes. Expensive film filled with cheap shots.

WOW! Don't miss this one. Hero makes Rambo look like a Boy Scout. Stallone bought the screen rights to give you an idea of the wild action plot. Mix in a bit of sci-fi and CIA skullduggery and it's like four books into one running about 400 pages with very small typeface. Will be looking for this hero in subsequent books.

Having been in quarantine with The Boys, I now believe I am suffering from Galeanthropy (yeah, I'm gonna make you look it up).

Hint: I nap a lot!

Home schooling...day 13

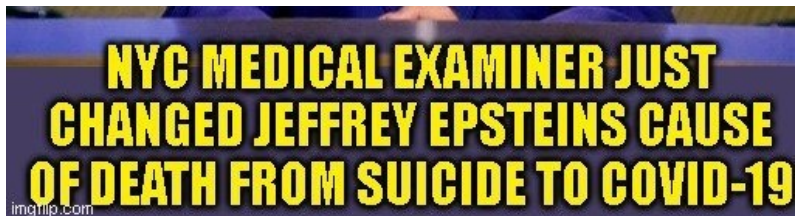

Have we explored all food to see if exploding them makes them into something better or did we stop with corn? If this guy is an American, we eat a million pounds of it annually. The Iroquois Indians are credited with the culinary technique using a pot and hot sand which early settlers adopted as a family's late night snack. Orville was an Indian?

The reason the death count went up drastically would be the federal payment for any virus related death. Then they figure the dead are no longer infected so add to the recovered column.

We're relying on "experts"...which is two words:
"ex" = a has been
"spurt" = a drip under pressure.

Politicians made a big mistake closing bars and liquor stores. Citizens are sober and stating to realize how incompetent our politicians are. Federal government started a payment program for any beer flu deaths and New York's beer flu death stat went up 4,000 overnight. Here's one Cuomo may have included:

Happening in The Swamp while the urinalists focus on the beer flu: Acting Director of National Intelligence has fired top bureaucrats and cut staffing substantially. He has also ignored Pencil Neck Schiff's requests for information. Wall Street Journal report earlier this month in which sources said Durham is increasingly focused on former CIA Director John Brennan and drove to Washington, D.C., to make sure the investigation stayed on track during the coronavirus outbreak. Election Integrity Project California alleges that there are more than 30,000 duplicated registered voters on the state's voter rolls. There are nearly 1,700 dead people on New Mexico's voter rolls, as well as 1,519 voters listed as being 100-years-old, and more than 3,100 voters who have been flagged due to duplicate registration concerns. In Pittsburgh — PILF researchers have said there are nearly 1,600 dead people on the voter rolls, along with more than 1,500 voters who are listed as 100-years-old or over, and nearly 7,500 voters who have been flagged due to duplicate registration concerns. This news while Democrats lobby for nationwide mail-in voting for the November presidential elections — a move that would potentially deliver ballots to an estimated 24 million ineligible voters. The plan is being bankrolled by organizations funded by billionaire George Soros.
