

FINALLY!

Found a competent IT guy who I've been looking for since last year. I now have a new computer with his very ingenious transfer of all my files from the old one and every glitch Microsoft threw at me resolved. He tackled it in one day. Very personable and didn't realize the worth of his talent so I helped him create a fee schedule that should help him develop his brand new business venture.

This is the kind of pro bono work I do so I don't get bored.

If your computer only does what you tell it to do and not what you want it to do, Joshua Walker is the guy to call: 952.373.1343

I recommend his offer of a $50 onsite complete evaluation of your problems and then a discussion of his recommendations and cost of what will resolve your computer problems.

Tip I got from Joshua was to switch browsers from Microsoft edge to Brave. Huge difference in results and much gooder layout!

More to come...

All the news I see fit to print.
Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

The deep blue Manhattan jurors have been selected for the Trump "hush money" trial. Judge Merchan's daughter is a top activist for Democrats and Joe Biden campaign. Judge Merchan is pushing charges against Trump that are not a crime. He needs jurors who believe as he does that Trump is guilty of a crime. The money was paid by Trump's former, now felon (for lying) personal attorney, Michael Cohen. He was reimbursed by the Trump campaign. The jury includes an investment banker, a security engineer with three children, a retired man from Lebanon who enjoys fly fishing, a speech therapist, a worker at an eyewear company, a woman from California who works in product development and a physical therapist. They all say NY Times as their main source of news.

The jury is comprised of seven men and five women. The judge is throwing gag orders around, most aimed at Trump but now includes the jury...and those excused from serving. Meanwhile, Stormy Daniels, one of the "ladies" who received hush money, has provided the Trump team with a signed statement that nothing claimed by the judge ever happened.

Meanwhile...

The "congressional hush money fund" refers to a special fund set up within the U.S. Treasury to handle settlements and awards in connection with workplace disputes and claims on Capitol Hill. This fund was established by the Congressional Accountability Act of 1995. The money used to pay these settlements comes from taxpayers, which has led to criticism and calls for reform in how Congress handles sexual harassment and other workplace misconduct claims. In recent years, there have been efforts to make members of Congress personally liable for such settlements and increase transparency around the use of this fund. So, how come Trump can't file for reimbursement of the hush money Cohen paid...without Trump's knowledge...from the hush money fund congress critters have established for themselves?

Will this be Reacher Season 4?

Hollyweird has bastardized every successful movie with sequels focused on woke theories of multiple genders, ideologies that defy common sense and actors who believe they have been transformed into the characters they play so they feel free to lecture us about what we should think.

You won't get that with artificial intelligence (AI) as the people who lose money after the actors spout their babble will realize they can replace those idiots with robots who will actually follow a script and keep their mouths shut.

Mark Hamill destroyed the Star Wars franchise. Alan Ritchson has taken his best shot at Reacher's success.

That midget Robert DeNiro is strutting around on five inch heels claiming to be a tough guy. Can you imagine Jimmy Cagney or Edgar G. Robinson putting up with this crap?

Where's the sequel to Song of the South with Uncle Remus and Brer Rabbit? At least they're throwing Trump into the briar patch...much to their eventual surprise and demise.

History does repeat itself...

The 1892 election was between Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison. Until today, it is the only rematch election between two men who had both served a term as president. In 1884, Grover Cleveland became an unlikely presidential winner. While Cleveland was a Democrat, he resembled Trump in many ways. The Republican Party was the party of the establishment, while Democrats were the insurgent outsiders as they recovered from the Civil War. Like Trump, Cleveland was a surprise national political figure. Just like Trump, Cleveland survived an election-year sex scandal. Just like Trump, he rocked to the top because voters were frustrated with corruption in both major parties. Just like Trump, his foreign policy emphasized nonintervention, while his domestic policy emphasized a limited federal government and lower taxes (Democrats were once the low-tax party) Just like Trump, Cleveland lost a nail-biter election in 1888, to Republican Benjamin Harrison, after the urban Tammany Hall political machine used its election tactics against Cleveland in New York City, costing him the state's election-deciding electoral votes.

Just like Trump, there was little doubt that Cleveland would be his party's champion again four years later. Just like Biden, Harrison was dealing with surging prices and a divided party. As now in 2024, inflation was one of the key issues in 1892, as Harrison supported an inflationary monetary policy that depleted the nation's gold reserves, while Cleveland was the candidate of low inflation, the gold standard, and monetary discipline (it was a very different Democratic Party then).

Fascinating history. Can you imagine teaching history in classrooms today and "subjecting" students to this kind of real history and how it affects their lives?

Both First Ladies were also involved in the 1892 campaign...with an earie resemblance to how Melania has been treated today.
