

Recipe Corner

Another new kitchen gadget. Chefman brand that will bake, dehydrate and air fry. Tried French fries first thing, extra thick and long that I ran through twice. Sprinkled popcorn salt on them and they weren't bad but next time: three times through or thinner cuts. Lots of recipes on the internet for air fryers. That's a hint for Gracie to start the search. Fun gadget and easy to use. Thanks to Patty for the suggestion. My kitchen keeps me busy and out of trouble! Maybe that's why Patty suggested it?

Still correcting design flaws; this one the entry to front door with an extension of the driveway. Also got ambitious and used my Navy training to replace the three LED lights on the garage. One of the fixtures was installed by an idiot. I'm guessing using a chain saw and Scotch tape.

Spock was very tolerant of the human species. However, recent news reports have confirmed why we have had no visitors from another planet. For example:

A judge in Ohio ruled that trans woman Rachel Glines did not commit indecent exposure in a female changing room after the defense argued that body fat covered HIS genitalia area.

A task force established by California Governor Newsom has concluded that the state owes each of its Black residents up to $1.25 million as compensation for America's history of slavery. California was admitted to the Union as a free state in 1850...no slaves. California is home to 2.25 million Black Americans, a figure that puts the total value of this state reparations bill above $2.8 trillion.

pResident Biden wants all DoD vehicles to be electric by 2030, that's just six years. America's fearless leader said "we're going to start the process where every vehicle in the United States military, every vehicle, is going to be climate-friendly".

Let's hope Air Force One is included?

As many as 700,000 migrants, a foreign population larger than Boston, Massachusetts, are currently in Mexico waiting to rush the United States-Mexico border when pResident Joe Biden ends the public health authority known as Title 42.

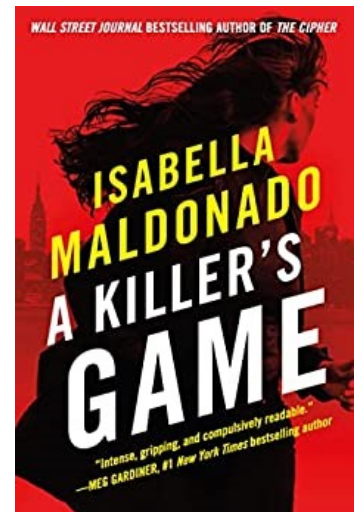

A covert army of contract workers has emerged to assist artificial intelligence systems in learning and producing text and images aimed at humans...and they are paid $15/hr.

What could possibly go wrong?

Self-checkout counters in retail stores throughout the country have added a tip prompt suggesting a 20% tip in addition to the rising prices of the products due to inflation.

Maybe it should be a discount for self-checking?

Book Report

Extremely competent and nationally recognized LEO, she retired and started writing, integrating forensic knowledge into the plots. This is the second (Amazon Prime free ebook for May) I've run across by her. Her main book characters (this is her third) are alter egos with this one a blend of a pint sized Reacher and Sherlock Holmes. If you're a Prime member, grab it! It's also worth the kindle price.

The Supreme Court is done hearing arguments for its current session and will be ruling on six landmark cases in the next two months that will impact the U.S.

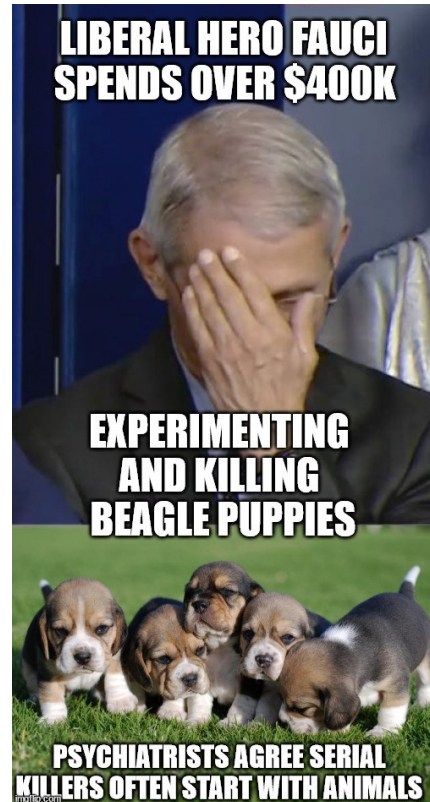

The court will decide affirmative action policies for universities. For decades, affirmative action has been used to prioritize students of color, while excluding exceptional students of other races. The court might end affirmative action, reversing five decades of racism.

The court is also deciding on a case by gay rights groups against a web designer. The designer refused to provide work for a gay client, over religious rights. If the court rules in favor of the First Amendment, it could destroy the gay cabal's agenda against religious Americans.

The court will also rule on social networks' immunity over content, states deporting illegal aliens, the government taking Americans' property, and Biden's illegal student loan bailout. If the court rules on the side of the Constitution, social networks will lose the power to censor Americans, states will be able to deport illegal aliens, the government won't be able to steal your house, and Biden punished for canceling student loans.

Joe and his family are getting very nervous as House Committees are uncovering years of bribery and a host of nefarious shenanigans that should (in a sane world) lead to prosecutions and even legitimate impeachment of the pResident. The Lame Stream Media will try to cover it up and government agencies will attempt new squirrel sightings to deflect the attention of the unwashed masses, but it looks like the Republicans have finally decided that it has had enough and will actually hold someone responsible.

The Animal Humane Society's annual "Walk for Animals" took place at the Minnesota State Fairgrounds minus man's best friend. That's because the Minnesota Board of Animal Health is calling for COVID-like precautions for all dogs, including keeping six feet between dogs and avoiding areas and events with large concentrations of dogs, to prevent spread of canine influenza. I'm guessing Fauci will come up with a vaccine for all breeds except for the Beagle puppies he tortured.
