

This 78-year-old Democrat was booted from his seat after more than two decades in Congress. The final results show him getting blown out by nearly 40 POINTS.

Democrat Rep. Al Green lost the Texas House District 18 primary runoff.

Green is best known for waving his cane around like a crazy man and for authoring numerous articles of impeachment against Trump, which have, of course, gone absolutely nowhere.

Green was booted from Trump's State of the Union Address for holding up a banner that read, "Black People Aren't Apes." This marked the second time that Green got kicked out of the State of the Union.

President Trump's reaction was iconic: "I will miss that lunatic not screaming and violently waving his cane at me during my next State of the Union Speech".

In other great news: Nancy Pelosi will also be among the missing at the next State of the Union address. If you may remember, she tore up Trump's speech at the conclusion making sure she did it while the cameras were still rolling. She could have been indicted for destroying the speech but, typical Democrat, she wasn't even fined for littering.

*All the news I see fit to print.
Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.*

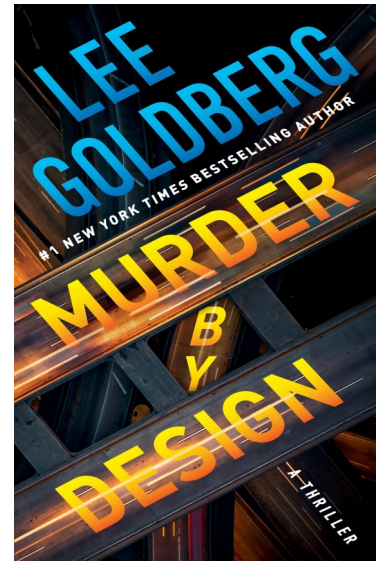

Once again, President Trump is thinking outside the box and is after a greater deal than anyone thought. He's approaching Iran as an obnoxious member of a family and is getting the family to work with him to control their outbursts. Here's how it's working:

The Abraham Accords are a series of agreements, brokered by the United States in 2020, that established diplomatic normalization between Israel and several Arab and Muslim-majority nations. The accords were initially signed by Israel, the United Arab Emirates (UAE), and Bahrain marking the first formal recognition of Israel by Arab states in over two decades. Morocco also joined in 2020, and Sudan signed a declaration in January 2021.

The agreements are named after the biblical patriarch Abraham, who is considered a common ancestor by Jews, Christians, and Muslims, symbolizing shared heritage and brotherhood. The accords focus on mutual benefits including trade, tourism, security cooperation, and interfaith dialogue, driven largely by shared regional concerns regarding Iran. President Trump has actively pursued expansion of the Accords. As of May 2026, the second Trump administration is pushing for Saudi Arabia, Qatar, Turkey, Egypt, Jordan, Pakistan, Syria, and Lebanon to join the framework, potentially linking their participation to broader negotiations ending the war with Iran. Additionally, Kazakhstan announced in Nov 2025 that it would accede to the Accords, while even Somaliland pledged to join following Israel's recognition of its independence. When these countries start to realize their common ancestry, perhaps the citizens will kick ass and take names when the "leaders" let their egos replace common sense. But then, isn't that our current problem?

War monger Linsey Graham said "If in fact as a result of these negotiations to end the Iranian conflict, our Arab and Muslim allies in the region agreed to join the Abraham Accords, it would make this agreement one of the most consequential in the history of the Middle East."

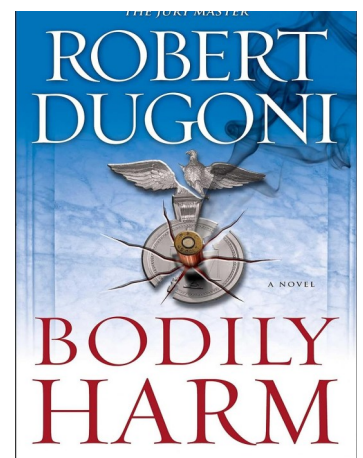

Like all families, when you have a kid that misbehaves, if threats don't work, you haul your belt off and proceed to administer a good ass whooping.

Book Report

I'm still smiling a week after reading this one from the dialogue and also finding a new author to follow. This was a free book via Amazon Prime. I was surprised by the author's resume...very prolific. I've ordered his debut novel. I'm also attached the searchable list in a word document.

If you're wondering where that TV guy Mr. Monk came from, yes, that's a Lee invention with several books about the character to add to the TV persona. He also coauthored a few with Janet Evanovich.

This one is the middle of a five book series, and of course, I am waiting for it to arrive. The first in the series, Jury Master, got me hooked. Best to read these in series for story line continuum.

Leftist rioters outside the ICE facility in Newark were blocking entrances, searching vehicles, and causing chaos. Then two brown guys walked out of the building, and the mob immediately started cheering and celebrating like they had just "freed" someone. ICE staffers standing behind the gate could be seen laughing at the rioters. Someone even yelled out, "They work here, dumbasses!" The protestors saw two brown men and automatically assumed they must be detainees instead of American workers doing their jobs. It never occurred to them that people of color can actually work in law enforcement.
