Avocados

Discovered you can freeze avocados. Very cheap this time of year but over a buck each later. Here's how:

Use juice of one lemon or lime for every avocado. Use mixer to blend into a paste and then into a zip lock bag with all air removed.

After freezing, place in refrigerator to thaw and then add other ingredients until you find a dip you like:

- Onion chopped into bits
- Salsa
- Cream cheese
- Tobacco sauce
- Cucumber bits after removing seeds
- Sour cream
- Cilantro
- Tequila
- Garlic bits

Or...

Spread on toast as is

Or...

Form bowls of hamburger and fill with avocado, shredded cheese/onion bits mixture then top with second bowl. Make sure it can't sneak out the edges when grilling or frying.

Tip: to speed up ripening of avocados, place in paper bag. To slow it down, put them in refrigerator.

*All the news I see fit to print.
Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.*

In other news...

Conservative Houston-area Rep. Briscoe Cain pranked Democrats at their own convention. He and other activists handed out yard signs reading, "This home is a gun-free safe space," according to the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. "It was amazing how many people took one and thanked us. They said they would put it in front of their house. I think it's funny," the Houston-area Republican told the newspaper, adding: "Nobody should put this in front of their house."

Book Report

Do not miss this one. Total deviation from his usual work. Sam Hell is a character you will not forget.

His usual work is pretty good too. This one a fascinating lawyer thriller with great insight to the toy industry.

One of Abbot's early works. Spy thriller with too complicated a plot and slow character development but a quick read. He's better now.

This gang would get me to turn on my TV again. It's been ten years...feel old?

You may have noticed that many websites are publishing new terms of use. This is a result of a new privacy act passed by the EU (European Union). I've decided to do my part in support of this new law and have posted new terms of use at:

My Front Door

Some of you are aware that daughter Mary is a 911 dispatcher. I've always wondered what kind of book we could co-author based on her many years of experience including the lady that called to check if mayonnaise was ok to eat after the expiration date. Here's a caption to go with the picture on the right:

"Stand by guys...my dad's at it again!"

Before you ring the doorbell

please be aware
we have upgraded our terms of use:

Acceptance of terms of use:

By ringing the doorbell and entering the premises, you acknowledge that the owner of said premises smokes a pipe, owns several guns and other lethal weapons, harbors and abets two feral felines, consumes questionable amounts of alcoholic beverages and enthusiastically voted for Donald Trump.

Without limiting the foregoing, you agree to:

- Never proselytize the advantages of tobacco abstinence
- Avoid frightening or harassing the feral felines
- Laugh at each and every hilarious Dad joke
- Always replace toilet seats to their original upright position
- Never try to sell me anything after ringing the doorbell

Note: use of the premises in any way that abuses, defames, stalks, annoys, threatens, harasses or violates the rights of privacy, publicity, intellectual property or other legal rights of the owner of said premises (now or hereafter recognized) or which encourages conduct which would violate any law or give rise to civil or criminal liability or post, publish, transmit, distribute, disseminate or upload any inappropriate, infringing, defamatory, profane, indecent, obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy, excessively violent or illegal/unlawful material or matters, including, without limitation, information, topics, names or other material may result in demonstration of aforementioned guns and weapons or enthusiastic participation by the owner of said premises.

Further note: placement of this terms of use notice may result in an awkward bodily position as you read and acknowledge the terms of use. (My neighbors have asked why everyone that visits me bows at the door before ringing the doorbell). If the doorbell is broken, holler ding dong as loud as you can.

Last major project for the house...replacing asphalt driveway with concrete. I almost typed "cement" but daughter Margaret would correct me as her consulting business includes communications and promotional work for the Aggregate and Ready Mix Association of Minnesota. Got bids from an asphalt company...also the guy who did son Chris's cement driveway apron. Given the bi-annual sealing costs, the long term cost of concrete was actually less than the asphalt company's bid. Extra comfort zone having Margaret able to decipher the concrete bid and compare prices for me...she said it was a good deal plus the guy doing the driveway lives just two blocks from me. Will be nice in winter having that curve on the left side fixed to give me a straight shot into the smaller left stall of the garage.
