

Update on USAA:

USAA got its start in 1922 as a mutual self-insurance company for Army officers. Its clientele is mostly service members, veterans, and their families, with membership limited to those who can show a military tie. Of the 10 men and one woman listed on USAA’s executive council, none mentions military service. In 2023, USAA debanked former Trump attorney John Eastman, citing its right to close an account “for any reason without advance notice.” Eastman asked about the closures, however, the bank stated that it was their policy not to disclose any further information. USAA scored a 100 on the 2023 Corporate Equality Index (CEI) from the Human Rights Campaign (HRC), a political far left group. The company provides a benefits package for employees which covers transgender medical procedures for covered employees and dependents, including children. It also uses sex and gender ideology criteria in employee recruitment, vendor selection, marketing, and philanthropic support. USAA forces employees to undergo multiple ideological training and uses its reputation, corporate funds, and political influence to support controversial sex and gender ideologies, organizations, and legislation.

Lame Stream Media running election polls...

8.3.2024 #447

*All the news I see fit to print.
Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.*

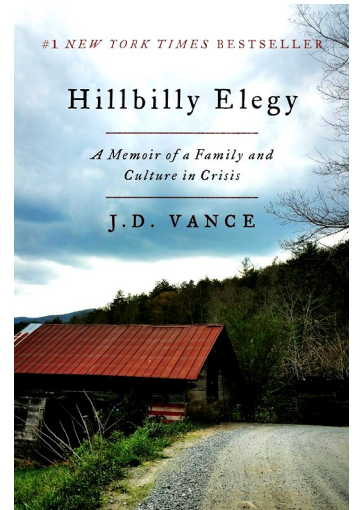

There will be about 1,500 polls of elections for president, senator, governor and the U.S. House by November. This is what passes for “journalism” today. Instead of Edward R. Murrow and Huntley/Brinkley, we get political commentary by “famous” people like Michael Moore, Whoopie Goldberg and Taylor Swift (whoever that is). Then there’s Lester Dolt who’s famous for his look of “gravitas” but looks more like a problem with constipation. Then there’s the bastardization of the language with terms like gaslighting, based, misinformation and similar Facebook fad fodder.

This is my favorite current fad...fact checking. As Herr Goebbels taught us, you never know “who” it was that “checked” it and why it’s a fact rather than a lie or why a lie is actually a fact.

Josef Goebbels was a master of the art of propaganda. His methodology was required study during my college days. He invented the blond, blue eyed, tall German master race while being a gnome-like, crippled strident-voiced orator. He would be proud of the LGBTXYZ crowd insisting that they are “normal” while demonizing white privilege.

The Lame Stream Media cameras are now focused on half naked trannies marching in our streets declaring that all MAGA deplorables are “weird”.

Book Report

Released in 2018 and currently #1 best seller in books, J.D. Vance was not a politician when he wrote this. It’s an inside look at poverty and his views on what causes it and some steps to mitigate a problem he believes has no total cure. I started to read it out of curiosity and finished at 3am...it will definitely hold your attention! BTW: the publishing house Ullstein Buchverlage has stopped printing the sold-out German translation of Hillbilly Elogy because they don’t like Trump. They figured banning it was cheaper than burning.

Sig Heil!

The antithesis of that idiot Mike...Mark Humill...whatever.

About that fraud Gov Timmy missed...it was enough to give every police officer in the state a $50,000 bonus or an extra $1.5 million to every MN school district statewide.

U.S. National Debt crossed the $35 trillion mark. That's a stack of $100 bills next to a football field and the statue of liberty and that's only ONE trillion. Democrats are asking "what comes after trillion"?

Meanwhile, Conn's Home Plus, a furniture, mattress, electronics and appliance store chain, will be closing 559 stores costing 3,800 jobs across fifteen states. Big Lots announced the shuttering of 149 stores. Now add 600 hundred Family Dollar stores, 300 CVS stores, and 113 Foot Locker's. These are "brick and mortar" businesses that have not been able to maintain customer traffic. Of course, politicians will blame it on "the other party". Before you blame Amazon and Jeff Bezos, think about this scenario: Over a hundred years ago, you could use the Sears Roebuck catalog and order "stuff" by mail and have it delivered by mail. What if Sears management had converted their catalog to a website? Supply chains would have consolidated on warehouses rather than build more expensive "brick and mortar" stores. Amazon innovated and China, as usual, is copying success with their version of Amazon called TEMU. Wake up congress critters!

Ohio Supreme Court ruled that selling a boneless chicken does not mean that it is boneless. Judges get paid for this?

Less than 5% of Americans are millionaires. Over 50% of our congress critters are millionaires.

At least 5,800 IRS employees and contractors owe almost $50 million in overdue taxes and more than half of them haven't been required to agree to a payment plan, according to the Treasury's Inspector-General.

In 2022, Harris and EPA announced $1 billion as part of a total of $5 billion for 2,463 electric school buses. Just 60 buses have been ordered. The rest have been declined by school districts.
