

The U.S. House is expected in the coming ~~days~~ decades to vote on ABOLISHING the seasonal time changes under the Sunshine Protection Act, supported by President. FIFY

So what do we do with that Hour involved on both sides of the argument?

One side is the unwinder: wakes up with the sun, full of energy, raring to go. Slows down about 4pm and ready for bed by 8PM.

The other side is the winder: don't even try to talk to them in the morning before they have coffee. Gets moving about 4pm and hits fourth gear with gas pedal to the floor by midnight.

Let's try this: all DMV sites, on one day, to check the time on the car clocks. The time most recorded is the one to be used for the law.

Of course the unwinders will call the winders racist while the DMV sites will be accused of including illegal immigrant cars.

The sun dial in your garden? Do you have to move your house 100 feet to the east?

All the news I see fit to print.
Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

The Supreme Court has the final say as to whether what the politicians are doing is legal...either according to the Constitution or to the interpretation of members who don't know what a woman is. It ain't pretty but it's been the best we have had for 250 years.

President Trump immediately fired the Democrat US Attorney appointed by a panel of rogue district court judges in Washington state after Democrats blocked Trump's nominee. Just another day with Democrats doing everything they can to kill any momentum of MAGA.

Although President Trump is focused on the 2020 election stolen from him, consider this: all 900,135 registered voters in one county in Ohio voted in the 2012 election. ALL of them. Barack Obama got all those votes. ALL of them. Romney nor anyone else on the ballots got ANY.

Biden was able to get 25 million illegal aliens into the US but now it will take a 60 vote majority to get them out?

Why did the Indian born CEO of Microsoft fire over 3,000 American employees and then apply for H1B visa for over 5,000 Indian migrants? Who's going to approve that?

Remember when we were fined for not signing up for Obamacare? Why do illegal immigrants get it for free?

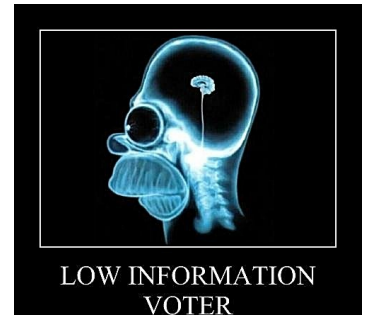

Every business has to use E-Verify federal program to confirm legal status of their employees. There is a fine if they don't and another if they hire illegals. Why do illegals still get jobs? Let's do the same for bank accounts. If illegal couldn't get jobs and money, where would they go? Home?

The Iranian regime successfully breached one state's voter roll database and used the names, Social Security, and Driver's License numbers to fill out 2020 overseas ballot registrations. Guess who they voted for.

All those illegal aliens crashing trucks and killing people while only four states (Florida, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Wyoming) require English only drivers license. Trump just said Veterans who have driven trucks on active duty are eligible and will be replacing them.

President's first step in solving the election fraud problem was outlined in his speech Thursday. The link to the data compiled by government intelligence and law enforcement agencies is now being made public. We just might have a safe and unblemished midterm election but that doesn't solve a major problem:

These people either don't bother to vote or they vote for the shiny objects offered by the Lame Stream Media like Zohran Mamdani as Mayor of New York City and Karen Bass as Mayor of Los Angeles. Now add the fact that The DNC has nearly $15 million on hand but is $18 million in debt, according to its latest campaign finance filings through the end of May. The RNC has $125 million on hand and no debt.

Of course, election fraud is going to be the Democrat's lifeline and the President's focus on election fraud is making them nervous.

Now add the fact that the details being released about election fraud also contains incoming indictments and obvious arrests based on the new evidence is really making them nervous. Some of the spotlight is even reaching Obama and his hiding the fact that China, Russia, Iran and others also were involved in election fraud because they feared Trump...rightly so.

Lipitor is a prescription drug that controls LDL (Low-Density Lipoprotein): known as "bad" cholesterol, high levels lead to plaque buildup in arteries, increasing the risk of heart disease and stroke. So, how much is "bad"? In 1960, the level was 300. Then it was 240. Then it was 200. Now it's as low as 70. Every time that number was lowered, another 50 million Americans "needed" the drug. That's not medicine...that's marketing. Pfizer has made $125 Billion selling Lipitor. Few years ago, a VA doctor noticed I was on Lipitor and he was very candid in his suggestion to quit taking it because he felt the side effects were worse than the benefits.

Have you noticed the amount of prescription medicine being advertised on television? Connect the dots and you'll see why "journalists" no longer

Remember years ago when they cured diseases like polio, measles, chicken pox, etc.? Now they treat symptoms rather than cure. In marketing, that's called repeat business. If you cure a patient, you lose a customer. If you treat a patient, you maintain a cash flow. Have you also noticed, doctors have been isolated from the patient until the insurance company "approves" the modality the doctor follows, otherwise, it's not covered and you're stuck with the bill your insurance premiums were supposed to cover. I laughed out loud when the UofM medical school insisted that new doctors honor the wisdom of indigenous medicine. They didn't check the list as tobacco is in the top four.

(Go to my website in the potpourri section and read the article on tobacco.)

Remember the food pyramid? The FDA is finally updating it from it's previous recommendation:
If it tastes good...spit it out!

Big Pharma and their Saint Fauci pushed it over the edge with COVID. His medical advice was so bad, he needed a presidential pardon to protect him. They didn't count on the internet and a target audience that was able to question their "advice".

Their lies were so egregious, people started to look back at the other medical "advice" they have been force fed for decades.

I anticipate urgent care additions coming soon to an autonomous reservation casino near you.
